

Wong Fleming Represents Corporations With All Facets of Commercial Litigation

Wong Fleming's business litigators are experienced advocates for public and private companies facing all forms of business disputes, including contract disputes, unfair trade practices, trade secret and intellectual property matters, shareholder disputes, the defense and enforcement of restrictive covenants, and business torts. We also have significant experience representing corporations with products liability and general liability litigation matters.

Wong Fleming represents Fortune 500 companies and other clients across a wide range of industries. We provide guidance and representation, from litigation avoidance to the strategic resolution of claims in state and federal courts, administrative and regulatory proceedings, and all forms of alternative dispute resolution. Whatever the scope of the engagement, we approach each matter with a singular purpose: to understand our client's needs and to meet and exceed their expectations.

The members of our practice group are first-rate litigators and trial attorneys, with the knowledge, experience, and skill-set to successfully resolve matters at every stage of litigation. With the client's goals foremost in mind, we pride ourselves on resolving all matters as efficiently as possible, tailoring our efforts to the specific needs of each case. Our lawyers think not just as litigators, but also as business people, working closely with our clients to devise optimal strategies for the most efficient and favorable results.
